Measure R gears up

WUSD & bond campaign members will ask public to approve $17 million from local taxpayers

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

CLARK CAMERON & MIKE McGOWAN

Will the third time be the charm for a West Sacramento school bond?

A number of factors might come together to make a $17 million bond measure scheduled for the Nov. 2 ballot here a winner, say two of the bond campaign's organizers.

"We're optimistic we're going to succeed, but I don't think we're delusional about it," said county supervisor Mike McGowan, who is chairing the "Save R Schools" campaign for Measure R. "Seeing the number of people active in this effort, I feel it's just time to work on these things. There's an awareness in the community about the needs of these schools."

Clark Cameron, finance chair for the committee and an ex-supervisor himself, also commented on why it might be easier for this school bond to achieve a two-thirds "yes" vote in November. Previous attempts at a $45 million bond and $90 million bond earlier this decade both failed to do the same.

"Those were considerably higher dollar amounts," said Cameron, "with no state matching funds. Just the scope of what we're proposing here is significantly different. Today's economy, for all the citizens and taxpayers, is enhanced, as well."

The new bond is designed so that West Sacramento's "median" home, with a tax-roll value of $70,000, would pay about $30 per year for 25 years to bring improvements to virtually all of Washington Unified School District's campuses. Fixed roofs, structural repairs, expansions, improved cafeterias and air conditioning would be paid for in an attempt to bring the quality up at all of WUSD's schools. A customized "wish list" has been developed for each site based on its needs.

Homeowners with assessed values higher or lower than $70,000 would pay proportionately more or less.

This $30 per year is "about the same cost as a couple of big pizzas from a local pizza place," said McGowan.

One of the main goals of the bond would be to bring the district's older elementary schools up to the same facility standards that are present at its newest one, Southport Elementary School.

"The students will all have the opportunity to have the same environment as at Southport," said Cameron. "If one has air conditioning and the other doesn't; if one has a cafeteria with a stage and the other doesn't; then these things need to be dealt with. "

The two prior school bond attempts both aimed to build a new high school in Southport, but Measure R for 1999 does not.

> '(An oversight committee) will have access to the records and be able to comment to the public, so whoever is on the school board will have no choice but to carry out the will of the people.'

> -- MIKE McGOWAN
> Campaign Chairman

"The new high school was not pursued because of a consensus decision (involving the school board and its advisory committee)," said McGowan. "It didn't appear to us to be a needed at this moment, and a new high school would basically suck all the dollars out of the community and there would be nothing left for years. What needs to be dealt with now is our existing infrastructure."

The new bond also aims to attract matching state money (as high as a four-to-one ration of state to local funds for campus rehabilitation) to leverage the buying power of West Sacramento taxpayers.

"The bond itself will be about $17 million," said Cameron. "That will generate a matching of about $20 million from the state of California, for a grand total of $37 million. You apply for it and get in line, but as of now, that money is available."

"That's partly our motivation for 'sooner' rather than 'later'," added McGowan. "We really feel that those funds will be available for this bond effort, but they might not be later."

Cameron and McGowan stressed that the school board has worked hard with the district's organizing committees to design a bond voters can trust. There will be a menu of items to be paid for out of the bond measure, they explained, and – if allowed by the election code – a billboard in front of each local school will show what improvements would be funded there out of bond proceeds.

The school board has also consented to allow formation of an "oversight committee" to watch the money, monitor construction work and speak out to the board and public about how work is progressing once bond money begins to flow.

West Sacramento bank robbed

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

West Sacramento's First Northern Bank on Harbor Blvd. was robbed Aug. 9 by a suspect who may have "simulated" having a weapon.

"It looks like it was a simulated weapon," said Lt. Dave Farmer of the West Sacramento Police Dept. "The suspect produced a note and put his hand near his waistband like he had a gun. The teller complied and the man left."

The suspect is described as a white male, 30-35 years old, 5'11" tall and 180 pounds. He was last seen fleeing on foot through the Bakers Square restaurant parking lot.

The amount of cash lost in the robbery is undisclosed.

Two-alarm fire at Spruce home

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A two-alarm fire severely damaged a West Sacramento home early Monday morning – and created a pesky firefighting problem as well.

"At about 5 a.m., we received a report of a structure fire," said Division Chief Mike Foley of the West Sacramento Fire Dept. "The initial unit arriving found a fire in the garage. Subsequently, the fire rolled into the area believed to be the attic, but it turned out to be a gap between the roofs. They had a wood shake roof with a corrugated metal roof over it, and the fire went into that space and spread through the house. It was very hard to get at."

Foley said that the couple and children who lived at the 3003 Spruce Way home escaped safely. But while the home wasn't a total loss, at least $80,000 in damage probably resulted from the fire, smoke and water damage, said Foley.

Units from Davis, UC Davis and Sacramento helped cover the fire and other West Sacramento stations as part of a "mutual aid" pact when the second alarm was called. The units came in handy when several other aid calls came in during the same morning hours.

Cause of the fire was under investigation, said Foley.

Arduous path to West Sac

JUANITA LOPEZ

Juanita Lopez, who is of Mexican and Irish parentage, was raised in foster homes in the Bay Area and never knew her mother or any of her other relatives until later in life.

"The foster home I lived in when I was 13 or 14 years old got to be pretty abusive," recalled Juanita, "so I gathered up my sister, who was a couple of years younger than me, and we ran away. For awhile we worked in the fields around Salinas and Watsonville picking lettuce and prunes and we lived in a little one-room shack that looked just like the ones that were in the movie 'Grapes of Wrath'. Later I was able to get waitressing jobs and I earned enough money to get an apartment and put my sister through high school. I had to make all our clothes by hand and nothing was easy back then, but we survived and I'm very proud of that."

When she was 19 years old, Juanita married and began raising a family that included five children by the time she was 30.

"Unfortunately," said Juanita, "my husband had a violent temper and would strike me from time to time and one day I just decided that enough was enough. I packed up all the children and went in search of a better life for all of us, which, thankfully, we eventually found."

As a single mother, Juanita waited tables and also found work as a machinist and welder.

"I ended up being one of the best overhead welders in the shipyards," remembered Juanita. "The work was hard, but that was never a problem for me. When I look back on it, those were actually some of the best days of my life."

By the 1960s, Juanita found herself in West Sacramento and for the first time in her life, she had some free time all to herself.

"The children were grown and off on their own," said Juanita, "so I started helping out at the Broderick Christian Center. At first I just answered the phone, but as time went on, I found myself getting more and more involved in all kinds of different volunteer work throughout the community."

Juanita's West Sacramento volunteer resume is long and distinguished. In addition to her work with the children's day care and senior citizens programs and services at the Broderick Christian Center, she worked tirelessly for city incorporation and improvements, has been a member of the city beautification committee, a director of Christmas in April, the East Yolo Senior Club president, a Yolo County Housing Authority commissioner, a West Sacramento Police Department volunteer, and a member of the Salud Clinic Advisory Board.

"Juanita is one of the real rocks of the community, and she has been a particularly strong advocate for seniors and city incorporation," said West Sacramento city councilman and former mayor Bill Kristoff. "She always has West Sacramento in her heart and she really has been instrumental in making our city a better place to live."

"When I think of Juanita," said Grace Ohlson, a longtime West Sacramento political activist, "I think of how faithful she has always been when it comes to attending city council meetings and staying up-to-date and informed on issues, especially those which have to do with seniors. I've known her to go to four different meetings in one day, and that's the kind of dedication that gets things done. She's been a positive influence in any number of important areas."

Juanita's life has not always been easy and she has outlived three husbands, a bout with lung cancer, and the deaths of her sister and a child, but she has always considered herself a survivor and she is extremely proud of how far West Sacramento has come since she first arrived here.

"The City of West Sacramento was much like an infant back in the early days," said Juanita. "First it had to crawl and stumble before it could walk. Then it had to steady itself from its mistakes before it could grow into a strong adult. I'm proud to have been a small part of its triumphs and sorrows and I'm still working hard to make sure our seniors get the kind of housing and care they deserve. There's still plenty of work to do and I want to continue doing everything I can to help."

Juanita's four living children are Barbara Jean, George, Leroy and Matthew. Her daughter, Mary Ann, died of cancer. Juanita also has 13 grandchildren and 13 great-grandchildren.

West Sac girl wins Jr. Teen title

Colleen Rosemarie Shorey was recently crowned Miss Jr. Teen Sacramento. In addition to her trophy and title banner, Colleen will receive a $1,000 scholarship in the form of a US Treasury Bond and she will represent Sacramento and the surrounding communities at the National Competition, which will take place in December in Orlando, Florida.

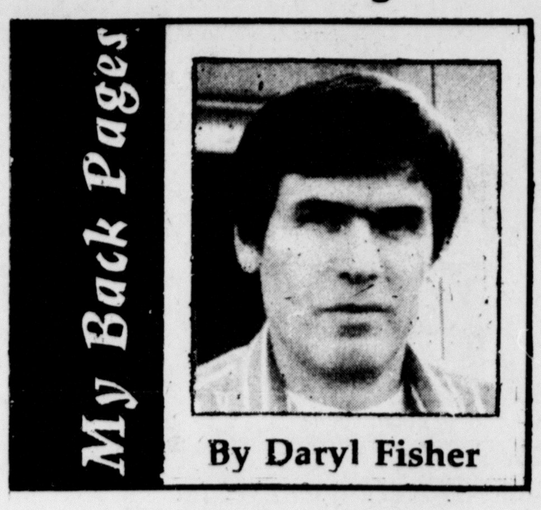

Colleen is a graduate of Holy Cross School where she was a cheerleader and student body president.

Editor's note: Daryl is taking two weeks off from column writing. The following is one of his favorites from the past.

The other evening, as my daughter raced from her bedroom to the bathroom to put on her makeup, she blurted out, "I need you to do me a favor, Dad!"

"And what's that?" I asked as she flew past me.

She stuck her head out of the bathroom and yelled, "I hadn't planned on going out tonight. I was going to stay home and study. I have a whole bunch of short stories I have to read by tomorrow for my English class."

"So, what's that got to do with me?" I asked her.

"Well, I'll try to get back early, but I'm still not going to have the time to do all that reading. Would you read a couple of them for me? You know, and then tell me what they were about when I get back from the movies?"

"But there's a Giant's game on TV tonight," I whined, much like my youngest son does when I tell him it's dark and he has to come inside. "Sorry, but I don't think so."

"Then how about just reading one of them for me?" she pleaded. "Come on. There'll always be another stupid Giant's game to watch. Oh, please?"

The short story I was assigned was called "Gooseberries" and it was penned by the famous Russian writer, Anton Chekhov. As I began to read, I discovered that it was first published in 1898 and dealt with the theme of personal happiness, what it is, and maybe what it isn't.

The story is told by Ivan Ivanych and revolves around his brother, Nikolay, who is a couple of years younger than Ivan and stuck toiling away in a government office, warming a seat that he hates and stuck in a profession he can't stand. Slowly but surely, Nikolay begins dreaming of someday owning his own property on the banks of a river in the country where he can have birdhouses, garden paths, ponds, animals, and his own gooseberry bushes. It isn't long before his whole life is consumed with this goal and he is absolutely sure he can never be truly happy unless his dream of a life in the country can someday become reality. He begins drawing plans for his grand estate and depriving himself of food, fun and drink so he will someday have enough money to purchase it. He becomes terribly stingy, dresses like a beggar and alienates all of his friends and family because all he thinks of and talks about is someday owning property in the country.

Years pass, and for the sake of obtaining some property with a gooseberry patch, he marries a rich, elderly, homely widow whom he is glad to see die three years later, leaving him all her money. He quickly finds 300 acres he can now afford and it proves to be everything he had ever wanted. It has a big house, servants quarters, and in time, a pond for ducks, a park, and scores of gooseberry bushes.

Nikolay quietly settles down to the life of a country gentleman, his dream fulfilled, his happiness now assured. It has taken him over 20 years, he has alienated all of the people who ever loved him and married a woman he couldn't stand, but he is finally happy. He is no longer a poor, timid clerk, but rather a real landowner and a gentleman.

Ivan visits his brother and tells us that, "I saw a truly happy man, one whose cherished dream had so obviously come true, who had attained his goal in life, who had got what he wanted, who was satisfied with his lot and himself."

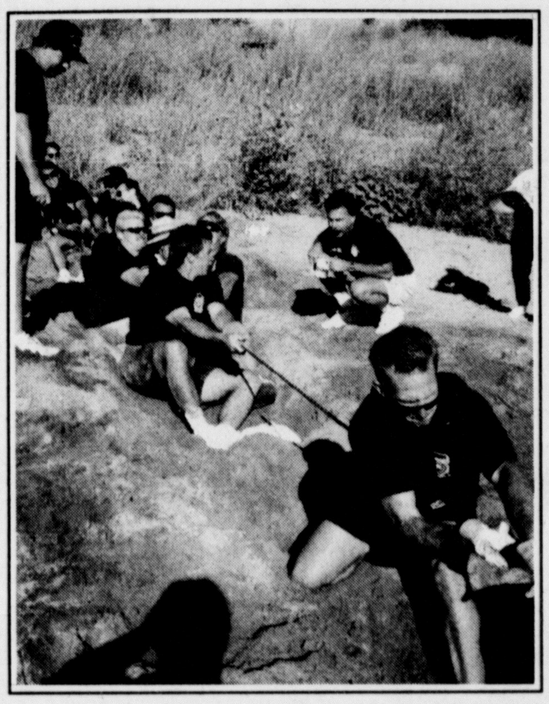

Ivan, however, can't get over the fact that his brother is now totally oblivious to real life; "To the insolence and idleness of the strong, the ignorance and brutishness of the weak, the horrible poverty all around him, of overcrowding, drunkenness, hypocrisy, and lying." How can such a man be happy, Ivan asks himself.

Maybe we trick ourselves into thinking we're happy, Ivan decides. And we do such a good of it that, "We see people go to market, eat by day, sleep by night, babble nonsense, marry, grow old, and good-naturedly drag their dead to the cemetery, but we do not see or hear those who suffer, and what is terrible in life goes on somewhere behind the scenes; obviously the happy man is at ease only because the unhappy ones bear their burdens in silence, and without this silence, happiness would be impossible."

Anyway, as I finally completed my homework assignment, I asked myself if maybe, just maybe, we've got it all wrong? This happiness thing we've all bought into, does it really even exist? And if a person like Nikolay Ivanych can be genuinely happy, using such horrible means to get there, then maybe it's not really worth all the precious time and energy we spend on its pursuit anyway?

Could it be that Chekhov is right when he has his protagonist say, "There is no happiness and there should be none, and if life has a meaning and a purpose, that meaning and purpose is not our own personal happiness, but something far greater and more rational. Do good!"

From the West Sacramento Redevelopment and Housing Agency

On Friday, Aug. 27, West Sacramento's firefighters will again compete with the Sacramento Fire Department in a swim race, canoe race and tug-of-war across the Sacramento River.

"This is a friendly competition, but we are going to win," said Lars Knudsen, West Sacramento firefighter and one of the event's organizers.

Last year, the West Sacramento team won the swim and canoe race, but lost the tug of war. Hopes rest on this year's athletes, including John Heilmann, a gold medal weight lifter at the California Fire Olympics.

"Seriously, we do want to win, but the real purpose of the event is to bring the two departments together and draw attention to the Pacific Burn Institute," said Knudsen. The annual tug event, now in its third year, generates publicity for the institute, which provides burn treatment in northern and central California.

Residents may observe and cheer the contests. The swim race begins at 7 a.m.; the canoe race at 7:30 a.m., and the tug-of-war at 8:30 a.m. Sacramento firefighters gather at Discovery Park, and the West Sacramento crew will meet on the opposite side, just north of the Broderick boat ramp.

From Richard Novoa

It was bad weekend for some Northern California athletes and their professional teams. The A's lost outfielder Tony Phillips for the rest of the year with a broken leg and the Monarchs will lose Yolanda Griffith, who will under go surgery this week to repair her right knee. The Oakland Raiders also had a bit of bad news when rookie QB Scott Dreisbach broke his leg as he ran a bootleg during the Raiders victory over the Cowboys last Sunday. Dreisback was again leading the Raiders to another comeback when he decided to run out of bounds instead of doing the old quarterback slide.

It's a shame because Scott was going to make the team and now it leaves the Raiders with two back up QB's in Pat Barnes, and Wade Wilson. If starter Rich Gannon goes down it could be another long season for the Raiders!

The Oakland A's will really miss Phillips, who broke his leg trying to break up a double play. Tony was batting .244 with 15 home runs and 49 RBI in the leadoff spot. The A's will have to use a couple of rookies, Ryan Christenson or Jason McDonald to fill in for Phillips. Those are big shoes to fill.

The A's (64-53) swept the Blue Jays in three games and now trails Boston (65-52) by one game in the wild card chase. Next stop on the road for Oakland is Boston then they return home to host Toronto this weekend in a huge three game series. The A's still have seven games left to play this season against Boston and Toronto. The A's have the best record in the A.L. since the All-Star break at 21-9 and a season best 11 games over .500.

On the other hand across the Bay the Giants pitchers are getting hammered and the Giants (59-58) have lost 12 of 16 games, and are 9-20 since the All-Star break and are no longer listed in the wild-card standings. The Giants pitchers have allowed 478 walks and 147 home runs, the worst in the league! Things are so bad they demoted veterans Mark Garner and Julian Tavarez to Triple A- Phoenix and recalled rookie pitcher Joe Nathan.

The 49ers back up QB Jeff Garcia looked very impressive in leading the Niners to victory over the Chargers last week. Let's see how he looks on Thursday when the 49ers host ex-49ers coach Mike Holmgren and the Seattle Seahawks. The Raiders will be idle until August 30, when they welcome the 49ers to the Oakland Coliseum. Even though only 35,000 fans attended the Raiders game on Sunday against the Cowboys that Monday night game against the 49ers maybe a sell-out so get your tickets early!

The Sacramento Kings added another versatile guard to their roster by signing 6-foot-2 free agent Tony Delk. Delk, who signed a two-year contract worth $1 million, was a back up guard with the Warriors last season.

The 1999 John Hancock U.S. Gymnastics Championships get started on August 25 and end on Saturday August 28 at the Arco Arena. If you need tickets call (916) 264-7718.

The Sacramento Knights (3-0) beat Team Brazil 7-5 before a crowd of 4,926 at the Arco Arena. Next up for the Knights is Monterrey, Mexico on Friday, August 20.

Boxing returns to the Radisson Hotel on Sept. 1, when Juan Lazcano makes his 10 round debuts. Tickets are available at Pro-Venture Travel in West Sac. and are priced at $22, $32, $42.

See ya next week!

Sac & West Sac: Another shared waterfront

On the agenda for yesterday's first-ever joint meeting between the cities of Sacramento and West Sacramento were a number of issues concerning the cities' joint waterfront.

When the two bodies meet next – probably in West Sacramento in November – the time might be ripe to discuss another "waterfront" issue of mutual concern: the Port of Sacramento.

The future of the port has been simmering on a lot of people's back burners for some time, and relations between the port and its host city (West Sacramento) are now at a fairly low ebb. The city and the port do not see eye-to-eye on several land use issues. With a decline in cargo revenues, land use is becoming the key to the troubled port's future.

The city has vetoed a warehouse complex near the Arlington Oaks subdivision proposed by the port. A possible cement handler on port property and a proposed mixed development with multi-family housing near Arlington Oaks may also draw fire. The city and port could also be at odds over the future of the barge canal's locks – and over future control of the port itself.

Sacramento currently holds most of the power concerning the operations of the Port of Sacramento. Behind the scenes, there have been talks about changing this (Sacramento views the facility as a limited asset, at best, and West Sacramento views it as a crucial piece of real estate and waterways). Perhaps this is a good time to bring some of these issues into the open.

A workshop and public discussion between the neighboring city councils might help define the problems facing the Port of Sacramento, and how best the cities of Sacramento and West Sacramento and the counties of Yolo and Sacramento might address them.

Guest Opinion:

Side-of-the-road cell phones are there when you need them

By Tom Stallard
Yolo County Supervisor
Third District

Stranded.

You know the scenario: you're heading down Interstate 5 to Sacramento, perhaps to the Capitol or downtown Plaza, or to visit relatives. All of a sudden, you hear (and feel) a large thud. As you pull off to the side of the road, you know you're not getting to Sacramento anytime soon.

Or are you?

You may get there a little sooner if you use the yellow call boxes that are placed along our highways and interstates. The region's call boxes are operated by the Capitol Valley Regional SAFE (Service Authority for Freeways and Expressways) which includes the counties of Yuba, Sutter, Yolo, Sacramento and San Joaquin. The SAFE Board of Directors are also the Board of Directors of the Sacramento Area Council of Governments (SACOG).

Here are some interesting facts about the call box system:

- Out of 1,282 active call boxes in the region, 240 (19 percent) are in Yolo County.
- Last quarter (March to May), those active call boxes took 10,304 calls. Yolo County's totaled 1,553 (15 percent of all calls).
- System-wide, most calls are made between the hours of 2 p.m. and 10 p.m., and average about 2.5 to three minutes.
- Yolo County's call boxes are located on Interstates 5, 80 and 505, as well as Highways 16, 45, 50, 84 and 113.
- System-wide, 96 percent of all calls are answered and handled in under five minutes, with 93 percent answered and handled within three minutes.
- Call boxes are basically cellular phones. Each one costs eight dollars a month to run. Call boxes are scheduled to call "maintenance" every three days.
- The call box system is funded by a one dollar increase in vehicle license fees on a county-by-county basis.

Call boxes are specifically for non-emergency phone calls, although calls are routed to CHP dispatch. So the next time you blow a tire on Highway 113 or run out of gas on Interstate 80, remember the yellow call boxes. They could save you some time, hassle and headache.

Letters to the Editor

Reacting to frustration

About every other month, TV's news headlines are too consumed by accounts of violent killings, usually done with military-type guns. Often no other news matters for hours. Too often, the killers are "social rejects," who are not only simply rejected by groups of their age, but (to make matters worse) are also made fun of. So subject individual not only feels the embarrassment of rejection, but must also defend against (often) harassment by many of those who rejected him or her. And yes, too often this rejection begins in early school years. Seldom does a frustrated, rejected young student know how to work out of such a situation and this includes NOT knowing how to relate the problems to teachers or parents.

Over 50 years ago, my parents did me a big favor. After too many cases of my getting "kicked out of school" because I was getting into too many fights (I'd have epileptic seizures, other kids would make fun of me and I would fight them, regardless of how many there were), I was sent to live with my grandparents. NO screaming, no foul language and no speaking ill of others did I witness. Thinking "Well, gee, maybe Grandma and Grandpa are a bit smarter than Mama and Daddy," future encounters with other kids laughing at me after a seizure were handled by asking, "Will you please tell me what is so funny so that I can laugh with you?"

Gradually, that kind of laughing disappeared. No verbal lessons from grandparents, just calm, quiet examples. Thanks, Grandma and Grandpa for those two peaceful years.

From an aggressive to a passive behavior, I did not realize how shy I had become and my older brother would help defend me against occasional bullies. But after junior high school to the job market, shyness was an embarrassing handicap. So upon beginning junior college, I began pretending I was no longer shy (playing the devil's advocate, as if I were planted in the classroom by the instructor) and it worked! By asking questions to get the ball rolling, other students did not have time to talk about non-classroom subjects. Classroom time was consumed more efficiently. By the way, I am no longer shy and no fights since 1957 high school graduation.

So, if I had my way, by the time students have their driver's license, they should 1.) no longer be shy, 2.) be able to write effective letters, 3.) be able to conduct themselves effectively for oral interviews, and 4.) be computer literate.

Finally, how about high school classes entitled, "Current Events?" Such classes should not only include the violence that consumes our news, but steps we can take to reduce such violence. Emphasize the future dangers of isolating and making fun of other students "just because they're different." While we keep hearing, "we can't measure what does not happen," we can measure the lower rates of those bad things that do happen. And it would seem that as we make it less socially acceptable to engage in what seems to cause the violence, we would take a big step towards reducing the violent effect.

For those who claim "guns don't kill; people do," I would suggest that rather than taking assault weapons from people, just take the people from the weapons.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS

The Sacramento River registered 19 feet 5 inches, United States guage at the Southern Pacific bridge yesterday. A great depth of snow in the mountains assures the farmers of the valley that there will be no shortage of water in the river during the coming summer. At the present writing it is reported that there are 65 inches of snow at the summit and it is being packed so that its lasting qualities will hold it during the entire spring. Certainly there is no scarcity of water or lack of moisture in the soil in this section of Yolo County and farmers are taking advantage of the opportunity to get their cultivating done and all their crops planted before another rain.

The Bridge Cafe, a dancing hall that had been in operation about a month, was cleared out last Tuesday when all the material was auctioned to the highest bidders. Although the furnishings had cost over $4000, very little over $400 was realized on the entire material. The rear end of the building where the cafe was located, stands on the right of way for the highway that is about to be built to the M street bridge and will have to be moved or the building remodeled to comport with the roadway.

R. A. Brooks, manager of office activities for the General Petroleum Corporation, with his assistant, J. W. Rogers, spent some time yesterday at the corporation's headquarters in West Sacramento. They are making note of the necessary equipment that will be needed in the near future. E. E. Bane, service representative of the General Petroleum Corporation, with headquarters in Oakland, was also a visitor yesterday at the Westgate headquarters. All three returned to Oakland yesterday evening.

J. Misetich escaped a serious accident last Wednesday on the Freeport road in Sacramento when the steering gear of his automobile became loosened and he was unable to control its direction. Suddenly shutting down his power and applying his brakes, Misetich managed to reduce the speed of the car, but nevertheless, the automobile collided with a telephone post and was damaged to the extent of about $100. He escaped with only a shaking up and some slight bruises.

Miss Alta Flynn and Miss Louise Gold have been visitors at the Lindquist home during the past week and expect to stay several days longer. Miss Flynn came from Portland and Miss Gold from Colorado. They are old friends of the Lindquist family and are professional nurses who devote a good deal of their time to philanthropic work. Both are highly educated and besides practicing their profession, between times devote considerable time to relieving the sick and dispensing charities where they are badly needed. Both these ladies expect to spend some time at Truckee before returning to their homes. They want to witness the winter sports in California because they feel lonesome for the snow to which they were accustomed for several years in their home localities.

Tony Bell is farming about seven acres in the Westgate district, just north of the pump house that now supplies water to the homes of Westgate. Tony is experimenting with spinach, horse beans and other varieties of vegetables which people here believe would not grow on sandy soil.

A resident of Sacramento spent considerable time yesterday searching for a Star coupe that had been stolen from his home on the previous evening. He enlisted the aid of Constable Wilson and toured the various roads in and around Washington but failed to find the Star.

WASHINGTON WAS NAMED IN 1850

Washington, in Yolo county, more frequently called Broderick nowadays, was named by Mrs. James McDowell, widow of the first settler in that locality, on Washington's birthday, 1850. McDowell had purchased 600 acres from John Schwartz for 12½ cents an acre. After McDowell's death his widow founded the town, gave it a name and filed the first plat. Schwartz gained considerable fame by raising melons and other garden truck and selling it to miners in Sacramento at fancy prices.

B. Parker, arrested by Triffic Officer H. R. Jacobs on February 22 for driving at a rate of forty-three miles an hour on the state highway near the Yolo causeway, appeared before Judge Barry yesterday and pleaded guilty to the charge. After paying his fine he promised to sin no more and delivered $10 to the Judge.

R. Henry, arrested on February 21 by Traffic Officer Jacobs for cutting in on the Yolo causeway, has not yet appeared before Judge Barry for trial. He will likely regret his driving recklessly because the Judge is severe on those who endanger lives on the causeway.

Mettie Peluso was married in Sacramento yesterday forenoon by Rev. Father Taverna at the Italian Church at Seventh and S streets. His bride was Miss Margaret Torres, age 21, while he gave his age at 19 years. Immediately following the ceremony the young couple went to Oakland on a wedding trip. Peluso is a son of J. Peluso, who operates a soft drink place near the Southern Pacific bridge.

Endowed with the distinction of deputy constable, Walter Leinberger, familiarly known as "Doogan," placed a victim of canned heat under arrest last Wednesday evening when he created a rumpus in the vicinity of the postoffice. The canned heat victim didn't like the idea of spending all night in the calaboose and fought back at Leinberger, who was in no mood to stand for back-slack from a poor, depraved creature who uses canned heat as a stimulant. Accustomed to handle great carcasses of meat, Leinberger handled the canned heat victim like he was a toy and threw him about as if he were a shuttlecock, but, nevertheless, did not injure him. A lawabiding citizen himself and anxious to see the balance of the community just as lawabiding, Leinberger despises anyone who dwindles to the level of a canned heat user. He promises in the future that any other man

SITE FOR NEW SCHOOL SELECTED BY TRUSTEES ON THE MERKLEY PLACE NORTH OF CARLY ACRES

The site for the new school to be erected by the Washington school trustees was selected last Wednesday when the trustees agreed with Roy Brooke to take over three acres on the Merkeley ranch north of the state highway in Carly Acres.

For these three acres the trustees consented to pay $1,500, but of that amount the residents in the immediate neighborhood consented to pay a bonus of $500. In that manner the Washington school trstees will only put up $1,000 for the three acres.

Mrs. Manchester told the Independent yesterday that the best price she could get from the West Sacramento Company for three acres located between Westgate and Carly Acres was $1,500.

The location of the school at this place is considered an injustice by the residents of Westgate, who voted in favor of the bonds because they were promised that a site would be selected for the building at a point in the West Sacramento district equally distant from Westgate and Carly Acres.

It was only the foresightedness of the residents of Carly Acres who voluntarily contributed $500 for the purchase of the site that was instrumental in prompting the trustees to locate the school in this location.

Residents of Westgate are now threatening to ask for a school district of their own, but yet they will be forced to pay their portion of the $20,000 bond issue that will go to build the school at Carly Acres.

But if the Westgate children must attend this school transportation must be provided for them, for the distance is somewhat over two miles, and certainly it would be better or shorter for them to continue attending the Washington public school.

The bonds are being advertised for sale at the present time, and according to expert reports on the legality of the bonds they will be sold to the highest bidder on Monday, March 1st, at the courthouse in Woodland.

Mrs. Manchester also advised the Independent yesterday that Miss Harriett Lee, county superintendent of schools, had visited the selected site and had given her approval of the location.

The Independent feels that the end of this matter has not yet been reached and that the Westgate people will not calmly submit to the location of the school at a site that is not midway between Carly Acres and Westgate.

This paper will welcome communications on the subject and will faithfully publish anything the parents or the taxpayers of the two districts wish to offer.

YOUNG MAN ACCUSED OF BURGLARY IS HELD TO ANSWER

At about 3 A. M. last Monday morning at the dance hall on Second street between Margaret street and the M street bridge James Jacks was arrested by the watchman in charge of the place and two other men who were called by the watchman and who were camping across the street from the hall.

Hearing a noise in the hall, the watchman noticed a dark figure prowling around the place, using a searchlight, which he flashed periodically. Instead of shooting, as is usual in cases of this kind, he went outside and called for help. With the aid of two other men Jacks was arrested and in his possession at the time of the arrest were two saxophones taken from the orchestra, a suitcase filled with tobacco, chewing gum, cigars and other material that had evidently also been taken from the place.

In Jacks' possession at the time of his arrest was found a very large screw driver about two feet in length which had been used to pry open the back of a gum vending machine and from which all the coin had been extracted.

He is now lodged in the county jail at Woodland and his preliminary hearing has been set by Judge Barry for Friday, March 6th. He offered no explanation at the time of his arrest.

BOND ELECTION FOR $8,000.00 FOR BRYTE SCHOOL ON MARCH 20

Woodland, Feb. 25.—Added to the two recent school bond elections, one in Davis and the other in the Washington district, still another election is to be held in the Bryte district, this one for $8000 for the purpose of obtaining funds to erect two rooms on the present Bryte Grammar School.

The bond election will be held March 20, according to announcement made this morning by District Attorney George T. Kern, who is preparing the papers in his office.

The two rooms for the Bryte school are held an immediate need, as accommodations for the school children at present are totally inadequate, it is stated. No doubt is felt by residents of Bryte as to the outcome of the election, and it is foretold that the bonds will be passed with probably no opposition.

The improvement of the Bryte school will have much to do with the advancement of education in Yolo County, which is growing by leaps and bounds. With the Davis High School to soon be erected, and a new grammar school for the Washington district to be put up in the future, this county can look to none other for leadership in educational lines.

PROLONGED TRIAL RESULTS FROM SPREE OF LAST FRIDAY

To celebrate Washington's Birthday in proper style and to add a little luster to the occasion D. C. Berg and Ernest Miller started celebrating last Friday.

In the first place they intended to attend the prize fights in Sacramento last Friday evening and in order to do so they partook of a popular brand which is sometimes distributed along the river levee.

Returning from the prize fights, they felt a little depressed on account of a friend who had lost his battle in the arena. To relieve the depression they partook of a little more and in that way the fiesta was continued Friday night, Saturday and Sunday. The climax came, however, on Friday night, when Berg, who is a deputy constable, claimed Miller was drunk and wanted to arrest him for disorderly conduct and using foul language within the hearing of good men and decent women.

Berg, to fulfill his official duties, tried to handcuff Miller and succeeded in doing so, even though Miller put up a valiant fight.

When Miller was fully handcuffed, Berg poked his revolver into Miller's ribs to impress him with the majesty of the law.

Spending all night in the calaboose, Miller was very sore and sobered up next morning sufficiently to swear out a complaint against Berg.

Being a deputy constable, Berg refused to be arrested until Constable Wilson impressed upon him that he must come before Judge Barry and explain his actions.

Judge Barry set the trial for Berg for Wednesday last for 2 p. m. Miller was represented by Attorney Nelson French of Sacramento and Berg had the support of District Attorney Kern.

The trial lasted all Wednesday afternoon and the greater part of Thursday before an audience that filled the justice court as it was never before filled. Indeed the trial was so ludicrous that people came from many distant places to listen to it.

To wind up the trial on Thursday evening Berg was found guilty on two counts and was sentenced this morning by Judge Barry. The other count is yet to be tried.

Berg and Miller are residents in the neighborhood of Second and Margaret streets and have been good friends until poor booze set them at each other's throats.

HALE, ARRESTED IN SAN FRANCISCO FOR HOLDUP, ACCUSED BY AL. ZEIMER

Woodland, Feb. 25.—William Hale, arrested in Washington early last January in connection with a holdup and robbery in which Al Zeimer of Sacramento lost $3000 in diamonds, is in the county jail in San Francisco, accused of highway robbery. Word comes to Woodland that Hale was captured Tuesday night on the San Francisco water front after he held up Kenneth Nolan, special Southern Pacific policeman and robbed him of a valuable revolver. Hale was caught by bay police two blocks away from the scene of the robbery with the stolen gun and a blackjack.

Hale and five other defendants, arrested by Sheriff J. W. Monroe, including Dixie and Harry Williams of the

MACHINERY AND PUMPS IN PLACE TO START GRADING OF ROAD

At the western end of the M street bridge yesterday, H. V. Tucker of the H. V. Tucker Company, contractors, was superintending the placing of pumps and other machinery to start the work of filling the grade for the state highway that is about to be built from the M street bridge westward as far as Fifth street.

Two large pumps of six inches in diameter, with electric motors attached, are to be used in the filling. These pumps will not pump sand from the river bed but will be used to float the sand westward to the point of location.

Tomorrow a large clam shell dredger will take its place in the stream near the bridge and will throw up the sand from the river bed on the levee near the bridge. Into a trough this sand will be dragged with scrapers and a six-inch stream of water will then be started by one of the above mentioned pumps to float the sand to the low places where it is needed.

Mr. Tucker explained to the Independent that the second pump will be used to throw the excess water back over the levee into the river.

The fall from the top of the levee to the highest point along the roadway is at least twelve feet and this fall is estimated to be sufficient to carry the sand to its destination.

Tucker explained to the Independent yesterday that he expects to finish his job in less than forty days. He expected to start more than a week ago but was delayed because the power line necessary to operate his machinery could not be brought to the location before yesterday.

To control the water a trench will be maintained at the northern side of the fill for the roadway. This will allow the excess water to flow back toward the levee, at which point the second six-inch pump will be located.

PETROLEUM CORPORATION MAY HAVE TO RENT SITE AT DAVIS

To establish a distributing base at Davis representatives of the General Petroleum Corporation have been looking for a site during the past week in that locality but so far have been unable to secure the needed ground at a resonable figure.

Owing to publicity given by the Independent on this question about two weeks ago it seems that landowners felt they had an opportunity to hold up the corporation for enormous prices for their land. This the corporation refuses to do and as a consequence no site has yet been secured.

The corporation expects to pay a reasonable figure for the necessary land but the Davis people are asking San Francisco prices for their holdings.

An alternative presents itself to the corporation of leasing a site from the Southern Pacific Company on which to establish the distributing base.

WEST SACRAMENTO RECLAMATION TRUSTEES MEET

Joseph Peltier, Samuel Harbinson and A. F. Turner, trustees of the West Sacramento district, otherwise known as District No. 900, held their monthly meeting last night at West Sacramento headquarters.

Questions of importance were taken up by the trustees and acted upon but the meeting was in session at such a late hour that this paper was unable to secure the transactions for this issue.

George M. Jones, secretary of the bondholders' committee of the West Sacramento district, accompanied Mr. Peltier on the trip from San Francisco.

PACKING HOUSE AND SHIPPING POINT TO BE LOCATED AT WESTGATE

Report was current in Westgate yesterday that a large packing and canning concern was about to locate a cannery or packing house along the river near Westgate.

From what the Independent could learn it is understood that G. D. Hudnutt has already contracted to build a large building and judging from the size of the order for lumber that was given a Sacramento lumber yard, the new building will not be a two by four.

The Independent could not confirm the report because of the lateness of the hour at which information came into its possession.

LOCAL YOUNG COUPLE MARRIED IN WOODLAND

Last Tuesday in Woodland Grant DeRiso, 24 years of age, and Miss Jennie DaGiau, 19 years of age, were married after a courtship of several years. They had been sweethearts since they attended school and the culmination of their romance was not unexpected.

Grant DeRiso is a son of Frank De Riso, one of the oldest residents of Washington. He is a machinist in the Southern Pacific shops in Sacramento and is popular with all the young people of the town.

Mrs. DeRiso was a pupil of the Washington public school and was raised here and is also very popular with those who know her.

Temporarily the young couple will make their home with Frank DeRiso, a brother of the groom, on their return from Oakland, San Francisco and other points where they went on their honeymoon.

Over 100 languages are spoken on the streets of New York every day. But when night comes 200 dialects are added to the clamor.

we do," said McGowan. "Part of that comes from the list we've got and the engineering estimates. We feel we've identified very well what has to be done as we will identify as specifically as possible what work will be done. Ultimately, the school board will be the implementer of those funds. But the oversight committee will be an advisor. It will have access to the records and be able to comment to the public, so whoever is on the school board will have no choice but to carry out the will of the people."

The school board agreed to the creation of the oversight committee, and it is now written into the bond measure. McGowan and Cameron hope to help recommend people with experience in fields such as architecture, banking, construction and accounting to staff that committee.

To win at the ballot box, "Save R Schools" hopes to raise $95,000 in campaign money.

"One of the previous bond measures had a budget of $45,000," said Cameron, "and both of them failed. Raising $95,000 is a daunting task and is not for the faint of heart. But if the goal's laudable, you've got to give it a shot. Of course, we'd rather put all of that $95,000 into the schools, but that would get us nowhere."

"Save R Schools" has opened up an office at 155 15th St. The organization can be reached at 371-0175.

McGowan and Cameron invite anyone interested in giving to the campaign, working on the campaign, or in serving on the oversight committee to be created if the bond passes to contact the campaign office.

Police log

Aug. 15, 5:22 a.m.

An officer stopped a teenage boy on bicycle near Pecan and Michigan, and found items in the boy's possession that appeared to have been taken from a nearby elementary school. A second young teenager was then arrested as well, and police are searching for two accomplices in the burglary of caswette player equipment, markers, and other school equipment from Westfield Elementary.

Aug. 15, 5:05 p.m.

An officer stopped a vehicle for a registration violation on Sacramento Ave., and found the driver was unlicensed. He was also in possession of marijuana and methamphetamines. The driver was arrested and vehicle was towed.

Aug. 15, 7:40 p.m.

An officer arrested two "very intoxicated" suspects near Drever St.

Aug. 16, 1 a.m.

Officers responded to Park Blvd. to talk to a victim who reported having been seated at a 15th St./Alabama Ave. park when two men came up behind him and began striking and kicking him. The victim refused medical aid and said he didn't want to prosecute; he just wanted a report taken.

Aug. 16, 1:50 a.m.

Two officers responded to a disturbance involving an intoxicated person at a West Capitol bar. The man was also urinating in public. The suspect ran to his car when police arrived, and when officer stopped the vehicle, blood alcohol tests showed percentages over twice the legal limit. The man was arrested.

Aug. 16, 11 a.m.

An officer took a report that a license plate had been stolen from a car on South River Rd.

Aug. 16, 12:29 p.m.

On West Capitol, an officer was dispatched to a West Capitol motel where a woman reportedly came to a unit, pushed the victim and her husband, then broke the numbers off the door. The woman was placed under citizen's arrest and released with a notice to appear in court.

Aug. 16, 2 p.m.

On Glide Ave., a person reported that a roommate had obtained $15,000 from the victim's account by taking and forging checks.

Aug. 16, 8:30 p.m.

On Alabama Ave., two officers responded to a call of a subject verbally abusing a small child. An officer found an abandoned four-year old in the street. The child's father then returned and was uncooperative and intoxicated – while being arrested, the man struggled and an officer received a puncture wound from a filet knife kept in the suspect's pants pocket. The suspect was placed in restraints prior to booking, and the police officer received medical attention and was discharged.

Aug. 17, 3:30 a.m.

Two officers responded to an Independence Ave. address regarding a man who had made numerous calls to police regarding subjects in his backyard. The intoxicated man had just lost his job and made statements about wishing "to see God," and admitted having shot guns prior to the officers' arrival. He was taken into 72-hour custody for evaluation and the guns were booked into safekeeping.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF FREDERICK L. RASTEDE, aka FREDERICK LEONARD RASTEDE, aka FREDERICK RASTEDE
CASE NUMBER PB 99-165

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of FREDERICK L. RASTEDE, aka FREDERICK LEONARD RASTEDE, aka FREDERICK RASTEDE:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by SALLY JENKINS in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that SALLY JENKINS be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on 8/31/99 at 8:30 a.m. in Dept. 2 located at 725 Court Street, Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a formal Request for Special Notice (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A Request for Special Notice form is available from the court clerk.

Attorney for petitioner:

River City Stadium Financing Authority
NOTICE OF INTENTION TO ADOPT A CONFLICT OF INTEREST CODE

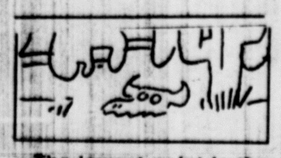

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that the River City Stadium Financing Authority intends to adopt a conflict of interest code pursuant to Government Code Section 87300. Pursuant to Government Code Section 87302, the code will designate employees who must disclose certain investments, income, interests in real property and business positions, and who must disqualify themselves from making or participating in the making of governmental decisions affecting those interests.

A written comment period has been established commencing on August 12, 1999 and terminating on September 26, 1999. Any interested person may present written comments concerning the proposed code no later than September 27, 1999 to the secretary of the River City Stadium Financing Authority, 2101 Stone Blvd., West Sacramento, CA 95691. No public hearing on this matter will be held unless any interested person or his or her representative requests, no later than 15 days prior to the close of the written comment period, a public hearing.

The River City Stadium Financing Authority has prepared a written explanation of the reasons for the designations and the disclosure responsibilities and has available all of the information upon which its proposal is based.

Copies of the proposed code and all of the information upon which it is based may be obtained from the secretary of the River City Stadium Financing Authority, 2101 Stone Blvd., West Sacramento, CA 95691. Any inquiries concerning the proposed code should be directed to Helen Kanowsky, Authority Secretary, (916) 373-5800.

Since healthy vision is essential to reading, it makes good sense to schedule children for a yearly comprehensive eye exam before they go back to school. However, it is wise for parents to be always alert to the early warning signs of possible vision problems:

1. Squinting, rubbing or blinking of eyes
2. Bumping into objects
3. Headaches, dizziness or lack of concentration
4. Holding objects too close
5. Avoiding books or television
